ABSTRACT

A method and system for elimination of spatial artifacts in digital imaging. Aperiodicity is applied to periodic data to mitigate spatial artifacts. The data can be received aperiodically and reformatted to be rendered by a periodic output

5   device. The data can be received in periodic format and rendered on an aperiodic output device. The system has aperiodic input and output devices.